The memory I will forever have of Ms.Andara is having been her 9th grade World History student...When I hear about "The Incas", "The Aztecs", and "The Mayans; I think about Ms.Andara...I didnt know who or what they were until I was taught by Ms.Andara...It was a blessing to get to be her student; and then stopping in when in 10th ,11th, and 12th grade for a visit...And then working along side her for 2 years when I volunteered at MBHS to assist students....T hank You Ms Andara for helping me understand how important History is. RIP....Always; Jacob Fortes MBHS C/O 1999

Ms Andara is a wonderful soul never heavy handed with her students and she always had he hair in place and really warnings of us being deranged adults yes we had selective hearing untill she brings you to her table I'm sure I wasn't the first oneI was taken back when she died. I ran into her at Whole Foods lol i knew she was bougie I was there for the employees to not notice I had hot food lol using my ebt she was there for her health. She's a stunner and I appreciate her for my growth as a teenager who didn't really had parents I hope she's in a peaceful placel love you ❤️ - Ms Pao or excuse me young lady lol

Mark, I'm sorry to read that your mom passed. We had recently reconnected by chance at Water's, she was picking up some things and I was waiting for my order, we kept looking at each other, wondering, could that be.....a lot of years had passed. She talked a lot about you. Her eyes danced as she shared stories about her son. We took a selfie together to send to my daughter, she was her AP history teacher & friend. A lovely, dedicated woman. She will always be remembered by our family.
