We're broken hearted for you all. We can only imagine how you feel. I know people keep saying the same things over and over. Although everyone means well, there just aren't enough words in the world that can take your pain away during a time like this. But please know our hearts and thoughts are with you cousins! Like I mentioned to Jerry, it wasn't until I became an adult that I realized how much your mom helped my mom, Joey and I. We will forever be grateful. Her memory will live on in everyone's hearts. I know she was there for so many others and touched so many lives. We love you!

She was my mom. She was also the neighborhood's mom. She taught me about generosity, not through words but with her actions. The world is better place because she was in it. Even though she is gone, what she left behind still makes this world better. I love you mom.
