Barbara H. Hagen

JAN 22, 1931 - AUG 14, 2017

Barbara H. Hagen, a devoted wife, mother, and teacher at St. Luke's preschool, passed away peacefully at age 86 in San Diego on August 14, 2017. Barbara was born to Earl and Marion Burns on January 22, 1931 in Denver, CO. She moved with her parents to San Diego in the mid-1940's and later married WW2 veteran Earl Hagen. She was a member of First Lutheran Church and a multi-year President of the Women of the ELCA. She loved turtles, cross stitching, quilting, and baking and was a joy to all who knew her. Barbara is survived by her son David Hagen and his wife Sandra Hagen, her daughter-in-law Carmen Hagen, her grandchildren Amber Hagen, Sara Claxton, William Taylor, and Kelly Southerland, and her great-grandchildren Ethan and Keira Hagen, and James, Liam, and Taylor Southerland. Barbara is preceded by her parents, Earl Burns, Earl and Marion Collier, her spouse Earl Hagen, brother Bob Burns, stepbrother Ron Collier, stepsister Leslie Collier, and her son Glen Hagen. Donations in Barbara Hagen's memory may be made to the San Diego Alzheimer's Association at alzsd.org or 858-492-4400 or to the National Parkinson Foundation at parkinson.org or 800-473-4636.

If ever anyone deserved to be called "a pillar of the church" it was Barbara. She was a long time member of First Lutheran Church where I first met her thirty years ago. She did so much to make First a welcoming place, she was active with Bread Day which she and the other women of the church started and which continues to feed hundreds of homeless and hungry people every week, and she took on countless other tasks that made our church a better place. I will miss her smile which she was rarely without, and her piquant wit which made her fun to be around. See you there, Barbara!

So sorry to hear of Barbara's passing. We were co workers at Little Acorn preschool and she was the best two year old teacher I could have asked for for my son back in 1987-88. I pray comfort and peace over all her family.
