Eddie Carrillo

DEC 23, 1952 - MAY 1, 2011

Edward Carrillo was born on December 23, 1952 in San Diego, California. Edward, or Eddie as most people knew him, grew up in National City with his beloved parents Eddie and Mary. As he grew up, he made many friends and was well liked by everyone he met. Always the athlete, Eddie excelled in baseball and continued his love for the game as an adult on multiple softball teams. His parents meant the world to him, he would frequently drop by for a visit for no reason other than to say hello. His brother and sister, Richard and Rose Ann, remained close throughout their lives. Richard and Eddie would always greet each other with “Hey Joe”, despite neither having “Joe” anywhere in their names, it was something between brothers that cannot be explained. Eddie was always quick to give his sister a hard time, he playfully referred to her as “ugly”, but that name came from a place of affection. Anyone who knew them was well aware of how much they cared for one another. Eddie spent most of his life in the masonry industry, rising from a lowly yard kid to a store manager and eventually to outside sales. Many of his clients became more than business contacts, they became close friends. Business hours were not enough time to spend with Eddie, as business associates and co-workers alike enjoyed spending time outside of the workplace with him. He married the love of his life, Ruth, with whom he shared many wonderful moments until her untimely passing. It wasn’t until 1982 where he found his true calling, as a father of his only son Robert. That day was the last time Eddie ever thought of himself first. Eddie and Robert spent countless hours sharing their love of sports, whether it was coaching his little league team, going to Charger games or never missing any of his high school football games, Eddie always made time for his son. Devoted, caring and selfless, Eddie put all of himself into being a father. It was clear he was too good of a father to have just one child, and in 1991 he welcomed his princess Alyssa into the world. From the day Alyssa was born she stole his heart, there wasn’t a thing he wouldn’t do for her. With more goodwill to spare, he spread his unconquerable work ethic to Holy Trinity, his children's school and church, where he helped with everything from the golf tournament to the annual Jamboree. Whenever there was work to be done at Holy Trinity, he was always one of the first to arrive and the last to leave. One would struggle to find an example of when Eddie put himself before those he cared about. He loved his friends, his family and the Chargers. Whether it was sharing a laugh, a round of golf or a good meal, Eddie just loved to be around those he cared about. In life Eddie never wanted anyone to worry about him, so remember a great moment you shared with him and celebrate the life of a truly wonderful man.

My dearest Brother, I cannot believe it is almost one year since we lost you. I still miss you so much. Tomorrow Robert will get married and your absence will be so difficult for all of us, I know that you know we all got together for Easter this year, one year too late huh, Mom was wrong we aren't too old huh? Everyone had a good time but I was thinking of you, sorry I didn't plan last year. I also can feel when you are around I really like those "visits" Hope you are doing good, playing alot of golf and no more pain. Love you so much "Ugly"

I'm so sad to hear about Eddie's passing. I have only known Eddie for the past year and a half, but in that time had countless conversations with him at Savannah Grill. I had nothing but great laughs with him. I'll miss talking golf and life with Eddie. Glad I at least got to spend some time with him. I'll miss him. Brooks

I met Eddie as a youngster when he was dating my sister, Pattie Care. He would come to pick her up and was always very polite and sweet. He would help with anything that needed to be done. Just last year when my sister came to see me in Arizona, Eddie drove over and spent the weekend with us. It was wonderful to see him and my sister reunite after over 30 years.....he was still the same wonderful person. God Bless him on his journey.

I met Eddie through my daughter, Diane. He was a wonderful friend to her. One time when Diane was unable to pick me up at the airport, she asked Eddie if he would pick me up and of course Eddie was there with bells on. I didn't know Eddie as well as most of the people at his funeral, but I know he was a good man and loved his family very much. He had faith in his savior and I'm sure he is with Him right now. They may even be enjoying a round of golf and praising God for His goodness and mercy and life everlasting. Eddie will be missed here, but we all have an opportunity to see him again if we have put our trust and faith in the Lord Jesus Christ.

My dearest friend Eddie, Getting to know you was so easy, so uncomplicated and it seemed so natural. We must have spent thousands of hours talking although we could sit quietly with each other in the closeness we shared that needed no words. I have so many treasured memories, my heart swells with favorite you-and-me stories that make me smile. We trusted each other with our fears our secrets and our hopes, we were always there for each other and promised we would forever be the best of friends. There just doesn't seem to be an easy way to say good-bye, sharing so much life and so much laughter it's hard to imagine what it will be like without you. Yet, I am grateful for the time we shared. So, when I think of you, as I often will, it's the memories of those times that will bring you right back to me. And no matter how far away you are, a very special part of you goes with me everywhere. So instead of feeling sad I will be thinking of you and holding you close here in my heart where you belong until the day we meet again. Luaaf...Diane

I am deeply sadden to hear about Eddie's passing he was truely a good friend to me. I have known Eddie since Frank & Roseanna were married. Eddie was my baseball coach, & boss, He took me camping with his family when I was a teenager, invited me to family parties and always made me feel important at a young age. We worked at Hazard together for many years and he would say to me "Hey Kid whats up" As we grew older and started our families we went our seperate ways, but we still seen each other on ocasions and had the same affection for one another. He will truely be missed and my love & prayers goes out to all his family, and know he is in Gods hands. Phil. 1:21
