Jose was a great husband, father, brother, and friend. From an early age, he worked hard to support his family in everything they needed. Growing up without a father he took on that role to support his mother, brothers, and sisters so that they never spent a day hungry. Working on the streets hustling however he could to earn enough money to support them. Later when he married his wife Sandra, he then had a new family to provide for which included his wife and later on his children. His moral sense of duty to his loved ones never failed him and continued to the day of his death. He was successful in providing financial, moral, spiritual, and educational support to his family, friends, and loved ones. He never stopped providing for his family and was always working whether it was at his auto mechanic shop, security, selling merchandise, or whatever other side hustle he had going. He was married to Sandra at an early age and remained married for over 42 years. They were always together. Like all couples, they had good times and bad times but regardless, they never left each other's side and loved one another. He had 6 children who he loved and spent as much time as possible with them. He pushed them to be better men (and woman), in his own way, and instilled in them, his hardworking spirit and duty to family. He is and will always be loved by his wife, and children. Throughout the years he made many friends who each love him as well. He never hesitated to help a person in need whether it was with money, a job, advice, or just a person to talk to. He was friendly, outgoing, and enjoyed talking to people. There is no doubt that he was loved by his brother, sisters, and close friends. He was still so young when he left us. God decided it was his time to rest and join him in heaven. He will be missed... we all love you very much Jose! We hope that you are now resting and in peace. Thank you for everything that you gave us. It was a blessing to have you in our lives.
