A Journey of Life and Love of

Julia Pagdanganan-de Leon

By: Salvador Idos & Vida de Leon

Julia Pagdanganan-de Leon, affectionately called “Lily” by people who have known her, joined her Creator on March 20, 2022 in San Diego, California after a prolonged battle with Breast Cancer. She was born on October 8, 1946 in San Marcos, Calumpit, Bulacan, Philippines. She attended Mapua University where she obtained a course in Business Administration. She got married to the love of her life, Martin de Leon with whom she had six children; Joseph, Veronica, Alexander, Margarita, Marcelino and Natividad and 9 grandchildren.

Lily’s life was very remarkable as it is truly inspiring. She was a woman of great faith whose life in many ways reflected the love and the goodness of her Creator. Her life shows how despite tremendous adversities and challenges, one could still attain happiness and self-fulfillment in our journey of faith.

For a long time, Lily’s life was spent in taking care of her family. However, everything changed drastically when her husband died of a tragic accident in 1991. He was assassinated. The brutal death of her husband upended her life and all of a sudden she had to assume the role of both a FATHER and a MOTHER.

How Lily responded to this heartbreaking event defined the rest of her life. Instead of being consumed with anger and bitterness, she made the decision to embrace her fate with LOVE and COMPASSION.

OCT 8, 1946 - MAR 20, 2022

As a single parent for more than 30 years, she devoted her full time and energy to her children. She has made it her life's mission to provide each of her children the right education for them to become responsible adults. By God's grace, all her children were able to acquire a college education and all were immersed in Christian values.

It is interesting to recall that as a widower, she had to do odd jobs to support her family – a knitter, a florist and a cook. She also worked as a food handler with San Diego Unified School District serving lunch to many students. But the most honorable job she did was to become a homemaker and a mother not just to her children but to the community as well.

She found herself managing their farm, something her husband has been doing all the time, when he was still around. She treated her farmers with JUSTICE and RESPECT. In return, they responded with admiration and mutual respect.

Lily was very generous in sharing her Time, Talent and Treasure. People flocked to her residence seeking advice believing that she was endowed with words of wisdom. She was soft spoken which belies the fact that she was actually a very STRONG WOMAN. She believed that she spoke WORDS of TRUTH, which are not negotiable. There is not a bone of meanness in her whole being. As a person, she was not judgmental which enabled to love her fellow man unconditionally.

On July 17, 2017, she was diagnosed with stage 4 Breast Cancer. She accepted the diagnosis with remarkable surrender to God's will. She carried her cross and her pain with quiet resignation without a bit of complaint. Miraculously, she survived Breast Cancer for almost 5 years!

While in the Philippines, other Cancer patients would come to her seeking consolation and advice. Thus, she devoted her time in being active in helping to bring joy and relief to Cancer patients in Nueva Ecija. They hold an annual Christmas party through THE RAINBOW PROJECT, a support group for cancer patients that her oncologist and her daughter Vida have organized and were inspired by her idea. It's amazing how God was using her even in her most difficult situation!

Indeed, Lily had a life well lived, a life fulfilled. She will continue to live in the stories we will tell. May she rest in peace.

Edrian Pangilinan lit a candle in honor of Julia.

Mommy "Julia", I will forever be grateful for all the times that we shared together (while very limited.) In this past year that we've shared together, you opened me with such open arms and heart that I truly felt your love considering the delicacy of your situation. Thank you so much for allowing me to be a friend to your daughter and your family, as I was able to witness in their great efforts to really come together for you especially during your last moments. While I know that our meeting was under these unusual circumstances, I am truly grateful for the impact that you have left in my life along with the so many lives you've touched. For someone that you met for less than a year, not only did you make me feel your love, but you were very vocal about it- which is something that I truly needed in my life during these times. Even the fact that, as part of your wishes for me in the afterlife that I myself, as an open gay man, may find the person that will be a part of my life. You are absolutely amazing for that Madam... With that being said, it is truly bittersweet, absolutely bittersweet for me to be typing this message but in many ways, you definitely prepared all of us for this moment to come. It is time for us to part ways for now, but I just wanted to let you know that I am so happy that you accomplished your life's mission on this earth. Now, you can finally reunite with your great love and live eternally with our Lord, Jesus Christ. Please continue to look down and guide us Mommy... We will forever and truly miss you for as long as we live. Maraming maraming salamat at nagmamahal, -Edrian
