I don't have much memories about Pop Pop from back when I was a kid, but I do remember whenever I got to talk to him across the phone or receive his messages it soothed my heart....It soothed my heart because he would text me every day hoping I would have good days and peace over my life....Whenever I'm by myself I watch my phone to see if he texted me or shared more bible verses with me... I just wished that I could have known him more or spend time with him... Rest easy Pop Pop, I'll see you again someday.....May the four winds blow you safely home Pop Pop.

Through my entire he has always, always been my light through the darkness. He has guided me thru so much. I just is surreal; waiting on his ringtone and hey princess! His laughter and voice can be heard in the breeze if you listen... dance on dad with all who have gone before you! And please know I am looking forward to seeing you!
