“ On Sunday March 20 1977. I meet a beautiful queen. This queen taught me alot of stuff. From how to dress and how to put my makeup on. How to love yourself and not take bull$#! from anyone. She also taught me about law enforcement. She was a strong hearted woman who was the most beautiful woman i ever known. There so many good moments and bad. Too many to mention. I have seen her in her highest and low. But she still picked herself back up. She was a strong leader and fighter. She went thru multiple surgeries and made it thru. She will forever be in my heart. She stayed by my side and never gave up on me when all doctors gave up. This woman had so much faith for me to wake up. I woke and i will never forget her. That is why my mother will be missed by never forgotten. I love you mom. My mother my queen and my supporter. I love you forever.
